WONDERFUL BOYS

The boy who becomes a student at Columbia University at the age of 12 has distinguished historic company, consisting of a long line of wonderful boys who became renowned men.

Victor Hugo, the Frenchman, and William Cullen Bryant, the American poet, wrote good verse when they were ten.

James Fenimore Cooper, author of the Leather Stocking Tales, entered Yale at 15, while Thomas Habbington Macaulay, British writer and statesman, read and translated Greek when he was only 5, an age at which every-day children go to kindergarten.

Youthful genius generally has made good in later life, except in instances in which genius has been shadowed by physical or mental infirmities.
 Thomas Chatterton, the wonder-child of eighteenth century England, died at 16, a suicide, leaving behind a collection of unpublished poems of matchless power and beauty.

However, few of the men whose achievements have moved world were remarkable boys. Thomas Edson was an ordinary boy in whom no one detected signs of genius. The early energies of Abraham Lincoln were devoted altogether to conquering a wretched environment. General Grant was described as "slow" at school and was not much of a success until after 30. John Bunyan, author of Pilgrim's Progress, was a dull boy and his father always worried of what was to become of him.

"Willy" says me to her offspring, pointing to the picture of the bright New York boy, who has just entered Columbia, "Just look at this boy. He's only 12 and he has already entered college. And here are you scarcely able to get along with your work in your grade!"

However, it should be consoling to Willy's ma to know that the world's greatest successes have been the ordinary boys, like Willy, and not the prodigies.

A few men pick a restaurant for its umbrellas.

Plenty of people will tell you they prefer chicken to turkey—but it's the bunk.

You can't read of Florida's experiences and cheer at Cuba's election day death list.

A million weddings last year and only 79,000 houses were built. This explains the recent popularity of mothers-in-law.

You are informed that the weather bureau's prediction of "fair" does not necessarily mean sunshine. Thus is forecasting made safe if not sane.

A Denver man fell down the courthouse steps on the way to his wedding and went ahead and got married. The euphoria has to fall on some fellows.

REPAIRS TO DUNWELL ROADS LEADING INTO VOLUSIA DISCUSSED

A good roads committee from the Daytona Chamber of Commerce, comprised of Secretary S. H. Crosby, former Secretary J. L. Pepper, Engineer W. A. Tavel, M. T. Botta, Max Leidersdorf, Wm. Goldenberg and E. H. Ar-strong, are spending the day in Ban-nell, meeting with Forrest Lake, chairman of the State High commission, on the matter of the proper roading of the proposed roadway from Bunnell into Volusia county.

The committee left the city early this morning in response to a telegram received from Mr. Lake, stating that he would meet with the local committee at Bunnell to thoroughly thrash out the matter of the best route and also to discuss repairs to the present Dixie Highway route from Bunnell to the Volusia county line.

The commissioners of Flagler were also expected to be present, and road matters which are vital to this community were expected to be settled once for all, ending a long-drawn out dispute between Flagler and Volusia counties.

The committee had not returned to Daytona at the time of going to press this afternoon.

MOVEMENT FOR FREE BRIDGE OVER ST. JOHNS IS AGAIN AGITATED

That a bridge across the St. Johns river at the Osteen ferry can be ac-cured and built, with the assistance of Seminole county and the state road department, if the people of this community will get behind the movement and help it along, is the information that has come to the new New Smyrna Coronado Board of Trade, and the new organization has taken the matter up with the idea of carrying it through if possible.

The agitation for a free bridge across the St. Johns river at the Osteen ferry has been on for a number of years and has been discussed many times in Volusia and Seminole counties, but without definite results. It is intimated by the New Smyrna News that if the matter is put before the state road department in the proper light, state aid for the structure can be obtained. Seminole county has stood ready for a number of years to pay her half of the expense of building the bridge, but Volusia county has never got to the point where she will meet Seminole in the proposition.

The matter will be taken up through the new board of trade at New Smyrna at once and some interesting developments may be expected.

LATEST NEWS OFF THE TICKER FROM NEW YORK MARKET

(Dow Jones Service.)

The Pennsylvania railroad has had

 New York bankers in that city Mon-Dan's says there is continued protection and waiting at a time when business should normally be expanding in volume. Little change from steady process of readjustment which has taken place except that price decline is becoming somewhat accelerated in some instances.

Thompson & McKinnon's stock interest today says: "A morning paper says that has been meetings of bank officials to try and check risks on the stock market. The meeting is expected, but perhaps a very simple and successful method would be to make it easy for the public to hold and to say, 'One sentence from the reserve board would accomplish wonders. All they require is an announcement of a reduction in the red-inked rate.
 The great complaint is that everybody is trying to sell and no one wants to buy. Is it because the public don't want anything, or is it because credit is not available? Many are disgusted at the stock market's failure to rally. Sometimes when a rally is expected, it develops into a bear when it does come, and I think we are not far from an option that might make it very uncomfortable for the short seller."
